

The Best Hotel Fireplaces in NYC

Hunter Atkins

For tourists flooding into New York City for the most magical time of the year, consider a hotel with a gorgeous fireplace to stay toasty while you enjoy the holiday spirit:

Refinery Rooftop at Refinery Hotel (63 West 38th Street)

Despite the winter temperatures, rooftop weather is year-round at Refinery Rooftop. Located above the stylish Refinery Hotel, the rooftop boasts 3,500 sq. ft. of rustic and industrial-chic space made up of vintage French terracotta floors and wooden ceilings constructed from the original building's water tank. The rooftop features a retractable partition that transitions to the weather, while still allowing guests to enjoy spectacular views of the Empire State Building during clear skies and snowy days. A crackling fireplace in the rooftop's indoor section provides the a place to curl up with one of Refinery Rooftop's seasonal cocktails and comfort food, or enjoy the winter sunsets or snowfalls.
